Name:

Apology Letter

Dear XXX,

I am writing this letter to sincerely apologize for not being truly honest with you. What I did was inappropriate, horrible and wildly selfish. No excuse would make things right, and I am really sorry that I made you lose trust in me. I deeply regret not telling you all about him/her, and for hurting you by not being entirely open to you.

I know my selfish deeds could have jeopardized our closeness, and I hate myself for that. Our bond is too valuable to me to end over this. I know it is not easy to gain your trust back, but if given a chance, I promise I will be entirely honest and put our friendship ahead of my selfishness. I can help hoping everything will be all right because your friendship is so special to me.

Please forgive me.

Yours sincerely

XXX
